API URLs and environments

RescueGroups.org provides two environments for your use:

Test

HTTP API URL: https://test1-api.rescuegroups.org/http/v2.json

The Test environment is a copy of production data. However, this copy may be several days or weeks old. You are not permitted to use data you retrieve from the Test servers in any production (publicly accessible) service or website.

If you experience any issues accessing the Test environment please contact RescueGroups.org support. The development team uses the Test server for new feature and service testing, so the environment may be offline or inaccessible during those times. We will try to post any scheduled test environment downtime on our Status page:

https://status.rescuegroups.org/

Production

HTTP API URL: https://api.rescuegroups.org/http/v2.json