_Sending_a_test_campaign_email_Content_v1

You can send a test message to yourself as often as you like to preview the way your email marketing campaign looks.

Sending a test message

To send a test message to yourself or someone else, enter the email address for the recipient in the Send to field and click Send.

> ⓘ Your test message will not be sent through the automatic schedule of the campaign because the campaign keeps track of who an email has been sent to, and will not resend to the same person. By sending the test email manually, you can send a test message as often as you wish.
> Please note, if you send a test email to an email address that is also listed as a subscriber, the campaign will not resend an email to that subscriber when the campaign is scheduled.

> ⚠ Emails sent from the Email Marketing Service will include your organization's physical address from your account. This is a requirement of the CAN-SPAM Act. Your street address will always be included.
