Organization Contact Information

The Organization Contact Information page remembers your email address, mailing address, phone numbers and other contact information and you can choose to prevent the email address or mailing address from showing to the public. The page also allows you to update additional information such as the services you provide, your general adoption process, etc.

Update your organization's main contact information.

- Clicking Contact Information in the heading section
- Clicking the hyperlinked Organization Contact Information heading beneath the menu
- Clicking Update your organization's main contact information

All of these take you to the same place. There are two sections, the General Information, and the Additional Information sections.

When you click to arrive at the Contact Information page, your organization's name should already display in the top field:

Additional Information

The Short Name (Acronym) may be something like Basset Rescue Across Texas using BRAT as an acronym.

If you have a physical address, enter it - or a PO box if you have that, in the street address section so that RescueGroups.org can send you snail mail if necessary. You can tap the radio button No to prevent your organization's street address from showing on the website.

You can do the same thing with your phone number. By clicking the radio button No, you can make your organization's phone number private. You can also keep your email address from showing on the website. Please note that when someone sends the organization an email from your website, it will go to the email address you specify here in Contact Information.

The email address you provide here we refer to as your organization's primary email address and this is the default email address our system will use when sending email communication from your RescueGroups.org account on your behalf. For example, when our system sends online form email notifications it will use your primary email address for the From field.

If your RescueGroups.org notifications are not being received by your team, and you use your own domain as a primary email address, our notifications may be getting blocked. This can happen if your domain is not configured to allow our email server to send messages on your behalf. We recommend that you add or update an SPF record on your domain to give our system permission to send valid transaction email messages from your RescueGroups.org account. Please read more about how to Add RescueGroups.org server addresses to an SPF record

Under the heading Additional Information, you can add more information about your organization. This information is shared to our API users and adoption listing websites. In addition, the URLs are available through the Pet Adoption Toolkit, a free add-on that displays your adoptable pet photos and descriptions on any website.
